This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

ELIZABETH,

Genung=Ganong=Ganung Genealogy.

A History of the Descendants of Jean Guenon of Flushing, Long Island.

After twenty years of work by many members of the Genung and Ganong families, and seven years of work by the present editors, the genealogy is finally published of the descendants of Jean Guenon of Flushing.

In many ways this genealogy is unique. The first ancestor in America was the only Huguenot of the Guenon family known to have come to America. Marrying in 1662 into a Holland Dutch speaking family of Harlem and settling in the English speaking town of Flushing, Jean Guenon soon lost the French spelling of his name, and in its place came the American manufactured names of his male descendants of Gannung, Ganung, Genung, Ganoung, Ganong, Ganun and GaNun, not to mention the odd spellings found occasionally in the 18th century.

Another unique feature of the genealogy is that an attempt has been made, with some degree of success, to give records of all descendants of Jean Guenon of Flushing, not only in male but in female lines as well. This naturally carries records into family names far removed from Genung and Ganong, and yet all descended from the common ancestor. To historians and ethnologists as well as to the family itself, this record of the various and varied work of all the descendants, who have been recorded, of a common colonial ancestor is highly interesting and valuable.

Yet another interesting feature is the great diversity of conditions in the family, and yet all these distinctly American and representing the varied possibilities of a substantial American family. The inter-marriage of the descendants of this first French-Dutch couple have been with Americans whose ancestors were English, Scotch, Welsh, Irish, German and Scandinavian, all of the main races that formed the American people.

The family having started in an era of deep religious feeling has persisted in that way, but from the first there has been much diversity in creeds. Of the first couple, the husband was a Huguenot and the wife Dutch Reformed. Since then the fami'y has had membership with the Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Methodist, Bartist, Reformed, Congregational and many of the smaller sects. In politics they belonged to both the Whig and Tory parties of the Revolution and all shades of political opinion are found in the family. In fact the family is representative of most conditions that are American.

As a rule, the family, like most old American families, has a preponderance of farmers. These grade from Canadian and New York general farmers to Southern planters and Western ranchmen. The various professions and trades are also well represented and marked attention has been given to education in many lines.

There are three centers, geographically speaking, about which the family has been most numerous: Morris Co., N. J.; Putnam Co., N. Y.; and the Lake District of Central New York. From these centers there have been migrations into nearly every state and terri-

PREFACE.

This work was begun primarily as a genealogy of the Genung family related to Benjamin Genung (No. 3494) the Revolutionary soldier. Many descendants of Benjamin Genung contributed to this material, the most important of whom was Joseph A. Genung (No. 3893). In the development of the work it was found necessary to examine records at Trenton, Newark and Morristown, N. J. To aid in this research, Alfred V. C. Genung (No. 1856) was a valuable contributor. Then came the proofs of the near relationships of the Genungs and the Gannungs, and the necessity for the including of many more lines. The excellent genealogy of the descendants of Thomas Ganong (No. 5515) compiled in 1893 by Prof. William F. Ganong (No. 5780) and financially supported by the Hon. Gilbert W. Ganong (No. 5778) was incorporated into this work with additions. Then came the search for definite relationships of the first three generations that resulted in finding the valuable notes on the will of John Gannung (No. 5) written by Isaac Gannung (No. 5511). This contribution was made by a gentleman of White Plains, N. Y. who is not a descendant of the family. This material aided in connecting the early families that had already been recorded, so that the completion was possible.

The most helpful contributor to this genealogy has been the Hon. Silas W. Gardiner (No. 626) who has shown a lively interest in the family history and a hearty sympathy with the work of collecting the records. Mr. Gardiner has given much assistance, both financially and in the search for descendants of Cornelius Genung (No. 18). Very valuable assistance has also been rendered by George H. Spencer (No. 2188), Miss Adriana B. Genung (No. 1980), Miss Laura B. Genung (No. 1662), Mrs. George H. Anderson (No. 6226), Mrs. Anderson Travis (No. 5374), Mrs. Jane Edmonds (No. 4890), Miss Abbie Williams (No. 139), Edward H. Lum (No. 1389), Robert S. Ganoung

(No. 2953), Edward W. Addison (No. 973), Charles Davis (husband of No. 1065), and many other members of the family. Outside of the family, important material has been obtained from the New Jersey Historical Society at Newark, and from many genealogists, including Judge A. W. Savary of Annapolis, Nova Scotia; W. Beach Plume of Orange, N. J.; Dr. A. B. Lyon of Detroit, Mich.; Robert B. Miller of Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. P. Crayon of Rockaway, N. J.; and Dr. Cleveland Abbe of Washington, D.C.

Though there has been some indifference in certain lines about assisting the editors in the collecting of family records, resulting in incomplete data in those lines, yet there has been a very large number of persons who have shown much cordial interest in the work, have given ready assistance of data of their lines and have extended valuable advice.

INTRODUCTION.

The collection of family records of the Genungs and Ganongs was begun in various branches of the family many years ago, but owing to difficulties encountered in the search for ancestral relationships of the various lines, not much in the earlier history was accomplished. That the lines were descended from Jean Guenon (John Genung) of Flushing seemed to be the general impression, though Irish and English origins were also guesses. The ordinary sources of genealogical material gave little of value in settling the questions of colonial ancestry. Cemetery inscriptions, church records, state and county records and family traditions were searched, but to little avail. The records for two or three generations seemed a puzzle. When Prof. W. F. Ganong came out with his "Descendants of Thomas Ganong" in 1893, he gave in his introductory chapter the opinion arrived at by all who had searched the material, that the Ganongs were descended from John, the older son of John of Flushing, and that the Genungs were descended from Jeremiah, the other son. This was a natural conclusion, but was unproven.

Not till we found Isaac Ganong's (No. 5511) extracts from John Gannung's (No. 5) will, did we know that differences in spelling came a generation later among the sons of Jeremiah (No. 7). The soft G of the Genungs belongs entirely to the New Jersey settlers and their descendants, while the hard G of the Ganongs, Ganoungs, Ganungs, Ga Nuns, etc., is from that spelling that was most common in Westchester county colonial days—Gannung, a form now extinct. The name of John of Flushing was spelled Cinom in his marriage record; Genung, as the first of the French inhabitants of Flushing; and Gonunge in his last will and testament. The hard G was undoubtedly the pronunciation he used, and the spellings conformed as nearly as possible to the sound of the French Guenon rendered by his Dutch wife and his English neighbors in Flushing. The three oldest sons of Jeremiah (No. 7) settled in New Jersey, and, as far as known, they uniformly spelled the name Genung and pronounced it with a soft G. The other sons of Jeremiah, three of whom had descendants, went to Westchester Co., N. Y., and their families have used the hard G. There has been great variation in spelling the second syllable of the name by the Westchester Co. lines, but the first is always Ga, never Ge. An interesting exception in the descendants of the three sons who settled in New Jersey is that of John Genung (No. 2683), oldest son of Jeremiah (No. 2677), who went to Westchester or Dutchess Co., N. Y., where his descendants have the hard G and spell the name in all the variations in the second syllable. Another exception is that of Gilbert (No. 4646), son of Jesse Ganong (No. 4410), who went from Putnam Co. to Otsego Co., N. Y., where for some reason he and his descendants spell their names Genung.

The name in France was formerly spelled Guenon, but later lines in France and a Catholic line that migrated from Normandy to Louisiana spell the name Guesnon. The name probably originated from the word cwen, that meant affable, friendly, like, resembling. Cwen easily became cwenen by custom in all western European languages of adding an apparently meaningless en to many words. In later times, when a coat of arms was given to one branch of the family, the word cwen or guen had come to be applied through a change in the definition—like or a resemblance —to the apes as resembling man. The coat of arms thus bore two apes. Later scientific nomenclature has used the French word guenon to designate that group of African monkeys to which the pet monkeys of ancient and modern times belong. Through all western European languages the cwen in various spellings was common, and there is little doubt that Quin and Quinan of the Irish and probably Gannon of the Irish and the English Cannon were descended from the word cwen.

From Flushing the family—i. e., the two sons, John (No. 5) and Jeremiah (No. 7), went over the narrow western end of Long Island Sound to Westchester Co. Deeds of property are not found of the family in Westchester Co., but for all we know they might have accumulated much real estate, because the county and colony records are scanty. Certain it is that John (No. 5) must have had no small amount of property to be carefully divided into seventeen shares. In the extracts from his will mention is made of living in Westchester, with a possibility of its meaning either the county or the town of Westchester that was the nearest town to Flushing across the sound, and is now a part of the Borough of the Bronx, New York City. Jeremiah (No. 7) made his will in the town of North Castle, up toward the center of Westchester County, adjoining Connecticut, and others lived in Bedford, the town next north of North Castle and separated by but one town from the town of Carmel in Putnam County, the home of so many Ganongs and Ganungs since the Revolution.

Of the third male generation in America all were sons of Jeremiah (No.7). The first of these sons, Thomas (No. 11) settled in New Jersey, probably in Hanover, Morris County. His early death may have occasioned his brothers, Ichabod (No. 1150) and Jeremiah (No. 2677), removing to Hanover to look after his interest there. The children of Joseph (No. 12), the only child of Thomas (No. 11), who also died as a young or middle-aged man, were brought up in the family of Jeremiah (No. 2677), in the town of Hanover.

Others of the family removed from Westchester County into the southern part of Dutchess County, N. Y., to the town of Frederickstown. The town of Carmel was taken off Frederickstown in 1795 and Frederickstown later became Kent. In 1812 the county of Putnam was formed from Dutchess County, including, besides other territory, all of the old Frederickstown. Lake Mahopac, about whose borders so many of the Ganongs and Ganungs have lived, lies in the southern part of the town of Carmel, not far from the Westchester County boundary.

The issues of the American Revolution made important changes among the family in the New York colony. Westchester, Dutchess and Orange Counties suffered severely from differences of opinion as to loyalty to the King. Hardly a family in those counties stood united for or against the King. Many of the wealthier and more intelligent of the population, as well as large numbers of the common people, remained Loyalists throughout the bitter strife, which was nowhere more bitter than over the hills of Westchester and Dutchess, where the cowboy skirmishes and raids made life and property unsafe. In many families father and son were in arms against each other. Isaac Gannung (No. 5511) was a soldier in the American army against which his oldest son, Thomas (No. 5515), was fighting as a Loyalist. Hannah Gannung's (No. 6367) daughter married Gabriel Purdy

(No. 6369), and they too were Loyalists. Thomas Ganong (No. 5515) left with his family for the Canadian Province of New Brunswick at the close of the war, and Gabriel Purdy with his wife and family removed to Nova Scotia. How many others of the New York State branch of the family were Loyalists it is impossible to tell. The missing lines of the descendants of Edward (No. 4400) and the silence of other lines as to any opinion in the days of the Revolution would seem to place some of them on the Loyal side.

The Genungs of New Jersey were more fortunate in the Revolution. Loyalism was less prominent, its adherents less respectable, and their influence much weaker in Morris and Essex Counties, New Jersey, than in the upland country east of the Hudson River. So far as is known, the New Jersey Genungs were all Revolutionary sympathizers.

[From "New York in the Revolution."]

One Stephen Ganun was a soldier in the Revolution from Poundridge, N. Y.

After the Revolution the development of new country under the new nation was remarkable. The lake country of the interior was becoming known for the richness of its soil, and thousands of people who lived along the coast from New England to the Carolinas sold all their real estate and moved into the wilderness with their families. The "Lake Country" began at Otsego Lake and extended across the finger lakes of Central and Western New York to Lake Erie and on through Northern Ohio and Southern Michigan to Lake Michigan. Naturally the eastern parts were settled first. Many branches of this family sold all in Westchester, Dutchess and Morris Counties and moved to the Lake Country.

Thus in the western migration the family has spread out into every western state and territory, carrying on their share of the wonderful development of the country. The family along the coast branched out into various lines of the world's work, and, whether in city or country, have made themselves and therefore the family as a whole, equal to the best that America produces. The Canadian lines have kept pace with those in the states, many individuals having gone into New England and other States.

The name Genung was given to a locality first in Morris County, N. J., at or near where Thomas Genung (No. 11) probably settled and died a young man. It is not known from which branch of the New Jersey Genungs Genungtown was named, but it is unlikely that the name was used before the death of the older Thomas Genung (No. 11). There was probably no postoffice ever located at Genungtown, N. J., because of its proximity to Bottle Hill, on the main road from Morristown to Elizabethtown, and it was at Bottle Hill where most of the people of Genungtown attended Presbyterian service and buried in the Presbyterian church yard. In the 18th century the name Genungtown was associated in the minds of people with "Uncle Tommy" Genung (No. 1151), who lived at the upper corner across from the school house. After "Uncle Tommy" died, the Genung family name became less known at Genungtown, and in the growth of the village of Bottle Hill, Genungtown came to be no more than the upper corners of the larger hamlet. Then the residents of Bottle Hill decided that their old village name was not elegant enough and renamed the village Madison. Genungtown as a name also ceased to be used to be used to any extent after the Civil War, giving way to East Madison. Since 1890 there has been a considerable increase in the size of Madison until now, with its commuters and owners of large estates, the old local names and old land titles are disappearing. The name East Madison is also little used. Dr. Leslie D. Ward has established the gate to his large estate at one of the corners of old Genungtown, so that the locality has come to be known as Dr. Ward's gate.

As far as we know, the name Ganong and other forms of the name beginning Ga have not been given to localities; at least we assume that the town of Gunong on the island of Nias in the Dutch East Indies does not come from some stray member of the Ganong family, but is a name of East Indian origin accidentally similar to our American manufactured family name.

The name Genung has appeared on maps in three places outside of New Jersey. The station on the New York, Ontario and Western R. R. for the village of New Britain, Orange County, N. Y., was located a mile from New Britain on the farm of Robert Wallace Genung (No. 1986), and for some time the station was called Genungs. The growth of the village of New Britain decided the railroad company to change the name of the station to New Britain.

A local map of Tompkins County, N. Y., gave the name Genungs to the farm and mill property of Jacob Peter Genung (No. 3841) in the southwestern part of the town of Dryden. The more common name of the locality is Ellis Hollow. Rural mail route No. 3 from Ithaca passes through Ellis Hollow and over Snyder Hill where many of the descendants of Benjamin Genung (No. 3494) have lived.

One of the United States Geological Survey maps of a portion of Arizona gave the names of the towns and larger and more isolated ranches of that country. Genung is one of the names on the map. It is the ranch of Charles Baldwin Genung (No. 90) in People's Valley, in the Weaver Mountains, along Kirkland Creek, about ten miles south of Kirkland and four miles northeast of Yarnell P. O. in Yavapai County.

We have traced the family into nearly every state and territory of the United States, the provinces of Canada, into the South American republics, and back to the old world, where they have studied in Jean Guenon's native country of France and also in Germany. They have been in missionary service in Bruma and military service in the Philippines, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

From Jean Guenon down we have followed, as best we could, not only the male but the female lines, in an attempt to show as well as possible the sterling character of the families descended from a typical colonial immigrant in the first century of American colonization.

DESCENDANTS OF JEAN GUENON.

1. JEAN GUENON, b. —d. before May 21, 1714.

Born probably in the province of Saintonge, France, in the vicinity of La Rochelle. As a Huguenot he left France with others of the faith and went to Holland, to Leyden first, and then to Amsterdam, from which port he sailed April 2, 1657, in the ship Draetvat, under Capt. Bestevaer. Among the other passengers was Marc du Sauchoy (now Disosway). The ship landed at New Amsterdam (now New York), and Jean Guenon was noted on the list, hence was not a child at the time of his coming. At his marriage his residence was given as Leyden. He settled at Flushing, Long Island, with several other French Huguenots, and the first mention of him is Oct. 9, 1675, among valuations of property, when he is credited with 3 acres, 1 horse, 2 cows, 3 swine. April 27, 1678, he witnessed the will of one of his neighbors, Sieur Dubisson. In 1680, Jean Guenon, Frs. Breteau and Jean Apré, three Frenchmen of Flushing, petitioned for more land and claimed to have lived there for over twenty years. Again in Flushing valuations Sept. 29, 1683, he possessed 6 upland acres, 2 horses, 3 cows, 1 three-year-old, 3 two-year-olds, 3 swine, 10 sheep, and for his increasing prosperity paid a tax of 6s. 8d. He or his son John (5) may have been the John Goning to whom was paid Feb. 27, 1692-3, a small debt from the estate of Capt. Francis Drake of Piscataway, N. J., who died in September or October, 1687. If this was the son John Gannung (5), the debt was probably due to him for services before he was 18 years of age. If this was the first John (Jean Guenon), it shows that there was an early connection with the Passaic Valley, New Jersey, to which migrated three of his grandsons, Thomas (11), Ichabod (1150) and Jeremiah (2677). In a list of inhabitants of Flushing in 1698, John Genung and Margreta, his wife, were the first named of the French families of the town. There were three in the family and two negroes. In 1711, when provisions were scarce at Flushing, an account was taken of each family's supply, and John Genung was found to be provided with 90 lbs. bacon, 5 bushels wheat, 6 bushels Indian, 65 cheese, no butter. They were better provided than most families of Flushing. His will, dated at Flushing in 1703, was as follows:

In the name of God Amen The Twentyfourth Day of November in the yeare of our Lord God one thousand seven hundred and three I John Gonunge Senr of fflushing in Queen's County on Nassau Island in the province of New York yeoman Being in perfect health of body and of good and perfect memory thanks be to almighty God and calling to remembrance the uncertain estate of this Transitory Life and that all flesh yield unto Death when it shall please God to Call them, do make Constitute ordain and Declare This my Last Will and Testament in manner and form following Revokeing and annulling by these presents all and Every Testament and Testaments will and wills heretofore by me made and Declared either by word or writeing and this is to be taken only for my Last will and Testament and none other, and first being pentinent and Sorry from the bottom of my heart for my Sins past most humbly Desireing foregiveness for the Same I give and Committ my Soul unto almighty God my Saviour and Redeemer in whom and by the merritts of Jesus Christ I trust and believe assuredly to be saved and to have full Remission and forgivenes of all my Sins and that my Soul with my body at the Generall day of the Resurrection shall rise again with Joy and through the Merritts of Christ Death and passion possess and Inherit the Kingdom of heaven prepared for his Elect and Chosen and my body to be buryed in Such place where it shall please my Executors hereafter named to appoint, and now for Settleing of my Temporall Estate and such good Chattells and Debts as it hath pleased God farr above my Deserts to bestow upon me I do order give and Dispose the Same in manner and form following that is to say first I will that all those Debts and Dutys as I owe in right or Conscience to any manner of person or persons be well and truely Contented and paid or ordained to be paid within Convenient time after my Decease by my Executors hereafter named. H. Wileman D. Secry.

Jean Guenon married at Brooklyn, N. Y., Reformed Church, witnesses Marcus Suson and Jean Duurkop, Aug. 13, 1662, to MARGRETA ("GRIETIE") SNEDEN, b. —d. probably in the early part of 1727. Born probably in Amsterdam, Holland. Daughter of Jan and Grietie (Jans) Sneden, who were descended from prominent old resident families of Holland. Jean Sneden and his wife with their two children, Grietie and Cartsen and Jan's brother, Claes Sneden, sailed from Amsterdam, Holland, Dec. 23, 1657, in the St. Jan Baptist, bound for New Amstel. Many colonists left Holland this same year, under the patronage of the city of Amsterdam, for New Amstel on the Delaware. Jan Sneden seems to have gone soon to Harlem, as he is mentioned in 1661 as a Hollander and one of the first permanent settlers of New Haerlem, now Harlem in New York City. At the division of land he received Lot 18, a strip of land a few rods wide running from about the foot of the present East 109th Street northwesterly at about the southwest corner of Jefferson Park and across First, Second and Third Avenues to a place between Third and Lexington Avenues with an end facing northwest. The northern corner was probably at 117th Street, about a third of the block east of Lexington Avenue. The house probably stood at 115th or 116th Street.

Jan Sneden was the first of the settlers to die at New Haerlem and his wife was the second. They were probably buried in the ground later used for the burial of negroes at the rear of the Judah plot, as other early interments were made there. The widow is mentioned as holding land in Harlem, March 14, 1662. Phillip Casier and Lubbert Gerritsen were appointed guardians for the children, and the estate was sold for 474 guldens at three vendues, of which, after debts were paid, 42 guldens remained to be divided between the children. The estate went then or later into the possession of Daniel Tourneur.

At the time of her marriage to Jean Guenon, Grietie Sneden's residence is given as Amsterdam, Holland. She was apparently a member of the Reformed Dutch Church in New York, as all the children were baptized there, and of the the Reformed Dutch Church at Jamaica, N. Y., at least after her husband's death, for Jan. 10, 1715, she subscribed 5s., and again April 29, 1715, when the articles of the church were signed she subscribed £1 toward building a church. Nov. 18, 1715, she gave 6s. to the building fund. In 1728 is a reference to the transfer of her pew to Stephen Ryder, probably after her death.

She made her will Feb. 21, 1721, as Margaret Genoung of Flushing, widow, probated March 4, 1727. Real and personal property was given to sons John (5) and Jeremiah (7), daughters Hannah Hedger (2) and Susanna Loureer (4), granddaughters Hannah Debreas and Charity Fiero. Executors, Stephen Ryder and James Clement. Witnesses, Gabriel Luff, Joel Burroughs and J. Smith.

Children (probably all born at Flushing, N. Y.):

2. Hannah (Annetie), bapt. April 26, 1664—d. probably many years before 1767. Baptized in the Reformed Dutch Church in New York; sponsors, Nicolaes de Lapleine and Macteld de Riemer. Probably lived in Flushing, N. Y. Married to Joseph Hedger, b. —d. Was a member of Capt. Timothy Bagley's Co. of Queens County Horse Militia in 1715. Children: (2a) Joseph, (2b) Margrett, (2c) Uriah, (2d) Sarah, (2e) Hannah.

3. Grietie, bapt. Nov. 1, 1665—d. probably before 1727. Baptized at the Reformed Dutch Church in New York; sponsor, Tryntie Jans. Probably not married.

4. Susanna, bapt. May 26, 1667—
Baptized at the Reformed Dutch Church in New York; sponsors, Claes Evels and Karsten Sneding. Mentionedin the will of her brother, John (5), in 1767 or 8, and was probably living at that time. Married to ——— Louereer (or Lowery). Only adopted children; possibly Hannah Debreas and Charity Fiero, mentioned as grandchildren in the will of Susanna's mother, may have been married adopted children of Susanna. Jurian Looe, mentioned in a list of contributors to Rev. Thomas Poyer of Jamaica, N. Y., may have been of this family.

5. John (Jan), bapt. Jan. 31, 1669—d. probably in 1767 or 8. Baptized at the Reformed Dutch Church in New York; sponsors, Jan Joosten and Aefje Laurens. "Always a cripple but spared by God to a very old age." Was living in his father's family at Flushing, Long Island, in 1698. Shared with his brother his father's farm at Flushing after the father's death. Removed to Westchester, N. Y., probably about 1722 or 4, possibly with his brother, Jeremiah (7). In 1715 there was in the Queens Co. Horse Militia under Capt. Timothy Bagley one John Gannon, possibly this man. Name spelled in various ways, probably John Gannung most often. His will has not been found, but the division of his property as set down by his grand-nephew, Isaac Ganong (5511) was as follows:
"Our shars of property from old uncle John who was always a cripple but spared by

The above notes on the will of John Gannung were undoubtedly made in 1767 or 8, and very likely at at the time of the division of his property after his death. What that property was has not been found, but it was probably no small amount to be divided into seventeen shares. These notes on his will seem to show that he had no children for all the names mentioned, except his sister Susannah (4), were children and grandchildren of his brother Jeremiah (7). John Gannung was probably not married, though he owned in 1703 a separate dwelling house near those of his father and brother Jeremiah, in Flushing. At least it seems quite certain that he had no children that grew to maturity. He probably died in Westchester County between 98 and 100 years of age.

7. Jeremiah, 1671—d. between 1746 and 1748.

6. Saertie, bapt. March 18, 1674—d. probably before 1727. Baptized at Reformed Dutch Church in New York; sponsor, Niefje Andries. Probably not married.

7. JEREMIAH GANNUNG or GENUNG (son of 1), born 1671 —d. before June 20, 1748. Born at Flushing, L. I. Baptized at Reformed Dutch Church in New York, April 9, 1671, Geertie Jans, sponsor. In 1698 he was mentioned in the list of inhabitants of Flushing that included his father and brother John (5), his wife Martha, and one child, name spelled Genning. During the famine of 1711 he was living at Flushing and was credited with 50 lbs. of bacon, one Indian bushel, 40 lbs. of cheese and no wheat nor butter. At the death of his father in 1714 he and his brother John (5) shared their father's farm. Aug. 19, 1722, Thomas Willett of Flushing willed to his son, Thomas Willett, a lot of land near the Fresh Meadows and adjoining to Jeremiah Gonong, but later, Nov. 30, 1724, in the will of Thomas Willett of Queens County he directs his son, John Willett, to sell all his lands near the South Hills and where Jeremiah Genong lately lived. This indicates that Jeremiah removed to Westchester County between Aug. 19, 1722, and Nov. 30, 1724. He crossed the narrow neck of the western end of Long Island Sound, opposite Flushing, to Cornell Neck or Old Ferry Point, to the land owned by the Cornell and Willett families, or to the old village of Westchester, the center of the Pell family property. The name Westchester was used as a general term for the most western of the New England settlements, an indefinite area between the Bronx and Byram Rivers along Long Island Sound. Like the British towns of Long Island, of which Flushing was one, Westchester became a part of the colony of New York upon its establishment at the capture of the Dutch New Netherland by the English. The name Westchester was later definitely given to a smaller area, the town of Westchester, that is now a part of the Borough of the Bronx of the Greater New York City; and the name was also given to the much larger area, the county of Westchester extending 25 miles north of the Westchester of the early settlements. Into Westchester, the settlement, the town or the county, went Jeremiah and his brother John

(5), but no deeds, wills or records can more definitely locate their homes. Jeremiah Gannung was living in North Castle, a town of central Westchester County, when he made his will, and probably died there. His will was as follows:

In the name of God, Amen, the 8 of September 1746, I Jeremiah Gonnong of North Castle in Westchester County, being very sick, I leave to my wife Martha all estate of every kind and make her executor.

Witnesses: John Gonnong, Gilbert Arnold, William Firth. Proved June 20, 1748 9.

Jeremiah Gannung was married about 1690 to MARTHA ———, b. —d. after June 20, 1748.

Children (list taken from abstract of the will of his brother John):

11. Thomas, —before 1725. Twin with Rebecca.
1142. Rebecca, —before 1760 (?). Twin with Thomas.
1150. Ichabod,
2677. Jeremiah, 1695—1776.
4400. Edward,
5443. Joseph, —before 1767 or 8.
8. John, —d. probably after 1767. Born probably in Flushing, N. Y. Lived with his nephew Isaac (5511) in Westchester or Dutchess County, N. Y., when John Gannung (5) made his will. Probably not married.
5510. Isaac,
6367. Hannah,
9. Martha, b. 1711 or before—d. probably after 1767. Born probably in Flushing, N. Y. Mentioned in the will of her uncle John (5). Probably not married.
10. Gilbert, —d. probably after 1767. Born probably in Flushing, N. Y. Mentioned in the will of his uncle John (5). Probably not married.

11. THOMAS GENUNG (son of 7), b. —d. before Feb. 12, 1725. Twin with Rebecca (1142). Born probably in Flushing, L. I. Doubtful if he ever lived in Westchester County, N. Y., where his father died 1748-9. Lived in Morris County, N. J., and died probably at Whippany, at that time in Essex County, N. J. Letters of administration were granted Feb. 12, 1724-5, to John Blanchard of Elizabethtown, his principal creditor. Name in original spelled Ganung, incorrectly copied in N. J. Archives, fol. 23, as Garring. He is mentioned again in a deed from Henry Axtell to Joseph Genun of land in Morris County, N. J., called here father of Joseph. His early death probably preceded the arrival in New Jersey of his younger brothers Ichabod (1150) and Jeremiah (2677). Married to

Child:

12. Joseph, b. before 1724—d. before 1768.

12. JOSEPH GENUNG (son of 11), b. before 1724—d. before 1768. Born probably near Whippany, now in Morris County, N. J. Blacksmith. Lived at Mendham, N. J. Mentioned in deed recorded December, 1764, of Richard Penn et als to Lynford Lardner, land in the township of Hanover, N. J., adjacent to land owned by children of the late Joseph Genung and cared for by his cousins, Thomas (1151) and John (2683) Genung. There is probably a mistake in this date, as in November, 1765, was recorded a deed by which Joseph Genun, son of Thomas Genun, bought of Henry Axtell land in Morris County, N. J. His land is also mentioned in a deed from Benj. Leonard to John Cary of land on the Passaic River, recorded Dec. 9, 1765. He died some time before John Gannung (5), his great uncle, died in 1767 or 8. Married to

———,

After Joseph's death she married —— Cory, and was living in New York City about 1812.

Children:

14. Abraham, b. —d.
18. Cornelius, 1746—1828.
803. Desire, 1749—1833.
13. Hannah, b. —d. after 1812. Born probably in Morris Co., N. J. and lived in 1812 in either New York or Jersey City. Presbyterian. Before Cornelius Genung (18) went to Warwick she and Abraham (14) had lived in the house near Morristown, N. J. with his family, but each had separate living rooms. Married before 1812 to David Magee.

1023. Jemima, 1758—1833.

1046. Mary, 1760—1817.

1100. Jesse, 1767—1827.

14. ABRAHAM (or ABRAM) GENUNG (son of 12), b. probably before 1746—d. after 1827. Born probably in Morris Co., N. J. Saddler. Lived in the house near Morristown, N. J. together with the family of Cornelius Genung and Hannah but occupied separate living rooms. Served in the Revolution as private from Morris Co., N. J. In 1793 was appointed ensign in Orange Co., and in 1795 was promoted to lieutenant. Went to Warwick, N. Y. and lived near what was known as the Warwick Meeting House. There is a tradition that Abraham Genung and Elder Montanye were the two handsomest young men who came to the Warwick Meeting House. Trustee of the Warwick Presbyterian Church in 1802. Probably moved from there about 1806, for then a trustee was appointed in his place. Lived in Syracuse, N. Y., in 1827. Died in Syracuse. Married by pastor of Morristown, N. J. Pres. Church, Oct. 25, 1785, to HANNAH JOHNSON,

Born in Orange Co., N. Y.

18. CORNELIUS GENUNG (son of 12), b. Dec. 16, 1746—d. May 9, 1828. Born in Morris Co., N. J. Succeeded to his father's farm of 100 acres near Morristown, N. J. Abraham (14) and Hannah (13) also occupied different rooms at this house. He sold it about 1793, and moved to near Warwick, Orange Co., N. Y., near Warwick Meeting House, where they remained only a year. Then, induced by relatives of the Hedges, his second wife's family, he sold back to its original owner this farm and went on to Exeter, Otsego Co., N. Y., where they purchased 300 acres on which the two families, nine Genungs and eight Hedges, spent the winter. Later, Cornelius Genung occupied his own house and had possession of 100 acres of his own. From there they moved in 1815 to near Penn Yan, Yates Co., N. Y., in what is now Second Milo. The original house built on this property was added to by his son Jesse, and to-day the small window lights can be seen in a room now converted into a pantry, although but little of the former appearance of the house is to be seen. He served in the Revolution as minute man in the N. J. Militia, and later, until the end of the war, as substitute for his brother Abraham (14) or Jesse (1100). Oct. 2, 1784 he with David (1155) and Stephen Genung (1450) witnessed the will of Abraham Cory. Mar. 19, 1785 he witnessed the will of Thomas Genung (1151), and Feb. 12, 1786, the will of John Genung (2683), who died in 1795. Died at Second Milo, Yates Co., N. Y., and was the first to be buried in the Second Milo Cemetery, which is across the road and a little nearer Penn Yan than his old home. Married by the pastor of the 1st Pres. Church, Hanover, N. J., Oct. 18, 1775, to

STIMSON BROCKWAY GARDINER, b. Aug. 28, 1819—d. Nov. 12, 1903. Born at Wayne, Steuben Co., N. Y. Son of Lyon and Sarah (Hodge-Schuyler) Gardiner and seventh generation in descent from Lyon Gardiner, the first of the family to set foot in this country, who landed in Boston, Nov. 28, 1635 and from whom Gardiner's Island east of Long Island takes its name. Like most of the young men of his time Stimson B. Gardiner worked on a farm, beginning at the age of 15, but attending school whenever opportunity afforded. When he was about 20 years of age he went to work in the saw mill of Richard L. Chapman at Penn Yan, N. Y. and while there met

Chauncey Lamb with whom his career was for so many years identified in the development of the lumber industry of the Mississippi Valley. Mr. Gardiner and his bride went to Mt. Carroll, Ill. in 1844 but after three years he returned to manage the saw mill of Mr. Chapman at Penn Yan for whom four years later he built a gang saw mill at Tioga, Pa. For some years after this he was interested in various enterprises in lumbering, land plaster and oil, then returned to the west and settled in Clinton, Iowa which was his home from that time. This was the beginning of a prosperous lumber business, with Chauncey Lamb and others. In 1877 his sons became actively identified with him in business, their operations were widely extended and the firm incorporated under the name Gardiner, Batchelder and Welles. After 1894 his interests were merged with those of Eastman, Gardiner & Co. at Laurel, Miss., one of the largest and best known concerns in the yellow pine business in the South. The active management of the business passed into the hands of his sons and he spent his later years in retirement amid friends and surroundings befitting a man of his character, a sterling business man, honest and straightforward in all his dealings and charitable and helpful to his fellows at all times. In the American Lumberman (Chicago), the Lumber Trade Journal (New Orleans) Dec. 1, 1903 and the St. Louis Lumberman Dec. 1, 1903 are to be found accounts of him together with his picture. Died at Clinton, Iowa. Children:

Served as private in 1st Regt. of Continental Army of N. J. during the Revolution. It is probable that he is the John to whom all of the following records refer:—1756, one of signers of call for pastor of the Western Congregational Society of Carmel, N, Y. In 1762 in Field Book of Survey of Lot No. 6 of Philipse patent (John Ganoung). In 1777 a taxable inhabitant of Fredericksburg in Philip Philpse patent (possibly this was his son John). 4400. EDWARD GANNUNG (son of 7), Born probably at Flushing, N. Y. Name spelled also Ganong and Ganoung. Was living at Lake Mahopac, N. Y. 1747, 1752 and 1762. One of the signers of a call for a pastor, 1755 of Western Congregational Society of Carmel, N. Y. Was in Field book of Survey of lot No. 6 Philipse Patent dated April 12, 1762. Mentioned in the will of his uncle John Gannung (5). Married to

_____,

The only knowledge of the descendants of Edward Gannung comes from the notes on the will of John Gannung (5) and from the process of exclusion in the comparison of data of the descendants of the brothers of Edward. Edward's children are known only through the notes on John Gannung's will that was made about 1767 or 8. In this will only three children received property: John, Edward and Joseph. This will also gives the names of three children of the son John and the only child of the son Joseph. From various sources it is known who were the children and grandchildren of the brothers of Edward Gannung, thus giving births as late as 1790 and later. It may safely be assumed that this Edward was the grandfather or great grandfather of all of the name born before 1790 not otherwise accounted for. This seems all the more likely as the "strays" seem to have been born in the neighborhood of Lake Mahopac where Edward Gannung lived.

Children:

4408. John,

4401. Mary, . Mentioned in the notes on the will of John Gannung (5) as living in New York City.

4402. Edward, . Received property from his great uncle John Gannung (5). It is not so certain but that some children credited to John (4408) should have been credited to this Edward, namely Samuel (4714) and Daniel (5253).

5273. Gilbert,

4404. Sarah,

4405. Abraham,

4406. Martha, . Probably the Martha Gonan who married Jacob Post, son of Abraham and Rebecca (Merrill) Post. Jacob Post's wife incorrectly given in Bolton's Westchester County as Peggy Graham.

4407. Thomas,

5441. Joseph,

✓ 4408. JOHN GANNUNG (son of 4400),

Received property from his great uncle John Gannung (5). Lived near Lake Mohopac, N. Y. Married to

Children (probably the following, order uncertain. Only three children of John (4408) were mentioned in the notes on the will of John Gannung (5), namely Jeremiah, Naomi and Jesse, but this order is known to be incorrect and it is certain there were other children):

4410. Jesse,

4714. Samuel,

4409. Naomi, . Mentioned in the will of John Gannung (5).

4723. Jeremiah, 1766—1839.

4410. JESSE GANONG (son of 4408),

Lived in Putnam Co., N. Y. and went from there to wesrern New York with his sons Isaac and Gilbert. Was a great singer and is said to have sung as long as he lived. Died at the home of one of his sons in western N. Y. Reuben Ganong (2712) sold land for the brothers John, Isaac, Daniel and Gilbert who went to the lakes and for their uncle Jeremiah who went to Ohio. By members of the family of Daniel (4526), it is said Jesse was a Revolutionary Whig, had a Tory brother, and died at the age of 108 years. Mentioned in the will of John Gannung (5). Married to

As a tenant on part of the Phillipse patent part of which he bought later. This has since been in the family and was later occupied by his grandson Chauncey B. Ganong (4430). At that time the young wife brought her possessions to her new home in a pillow case, while the husband brought his, a square table, on his back. 6706. MARGARET GANUNG(?) (dau. of 1?), b. —d. before 1729. The wife of John Field of Flushing was Margaret ———, who died before 1729. There is a possibility that this Margaret was Grietie (No. 3, page 15) daughter of Jean Guenon (No. 1), as the date of baptism would make her but a few years younger than John Field who lived in the same town. Grietie's mother in her will (see page 15) mentioned granddaughters Hannah Debreas and Charity Fiero. Debreas could easily have been Brees, and Fiero a mistake for Field. We had previously guessed that Hannah Debreas and Charity Fiero might have been adopted children of Grietie's sister Susannah (No. 4), but the similarity of the names of John Field's children to Gannung names, the dates, and the migration of John Field to New Jersey near where the Genungs settled are data toward proving that Margaret Gannung (No. 3 and 6706) was married to

THE GUENON FAMILY OF FRANCE.

The name Guenon has its origin in a word common in nearly all European languages but spelled in various ways: cwen, guin, win, guen and so forth, all meaning friend or companion or in a special sense a resemblance, a creature having a human resemblance, or the ape. A second possible origin, though not likely, is an abbreviation of Huguenot, derived from Hugues (Hugo), mind, intelligence. The former one is the generally accepted meaning because of the French meaning of guenon as translated ape and shown as such in the two coats of arms that have been given to Guenon families in France.

The family in France, with rare exceptions, has lived in or near the city of Saintes in the province of Saintonge on the Charante River in western France. In religion the family has for the most part been Protestant, even in the darkest days of persecution. The majority of the population about this part of France, with La Rochelle as a center, was Protestant during the years of tolerance, and a great many secretly retained their religion during the centuries of persecution. Branches of the family left France and took refuge in Holland and England where they could worship in the Protestant faith. When religious persecution ceased in France the family became once more publicly of the Christian Reformed religion.

The earliest Guenon that has been found in French records is Thomas Guenon who was living in 1489. This may also be the Sergeant Royal Thomas Guenon mentioned in another record. Jehan Guenon was a Solicitor at Saintes and was living in 1538 and also in 1561. He married Marie de Bizet, daughter of Etienne de Bizet, and had at least one son Louys (Louis) who was living at Saintes in 1561. Jean Guenon, Sieur de Beaubuisson, son of Pierre Guenon, served in the cavalry in Italy and France, and was killed at the Siege of Lisle in 1560.

Ythier Guenon married Luce d'Aymond and had two children: 1st, Anne Guenon married Aug. 8, 1613 to Nicholas Du Hamel who was living at Saintes in 1628; 2nd, Jean Guenon de la Soubertière among whose descendents was François Guenon de la Soubertière who married Jeanne de Fay. She was a widow in 1683. Guenon de la Soubertière was mentioned among the nobility in 1758.

Michel Guenon was living in 1567 and 1578. His son Jehan was baptised in 1579. In the same year mention is made of Jeanne Guenon, wife of Joseph Eschaperiaux of Saintes who was married July 27, 1665. Etienne Guenon, Solicitor at Saintes married Madeleine Ogier. Their daughter Marguerite Guenon married in 1593 Pierre Senné of Saintes. Judith Guenon was married at Saintes to Pierre Rocquemadour. Jeanne Guenon married first Odet Collineau, and second Garnier de Chautcloup. Another Jeanne Guenon married —— Sarragon and was buried March 26, 1640. Another Jeanne Guenon married Jacob de la Couture, Jan. 20, 1631. Yet another Jeanne Guenon was married July 3, 1645 to Marc Toupainct. Jacques Guenon was living in 1664. Réné Guenon was married March 7, 1664 to Anne Homeau. Etienne Guenon of Saintes married first Elizabeth Poictevyn, second Marie Robin. His children were Charles, born April 28, 1605; Françoise, born July 22, 1607; and Jeanne, born Sept. 24, 1611. Nicolas Guenon d'Aunizeuil en Champagne was executed as a Huguenot in the 16th century. A widow N. Guenon, whose husband had been a Solicitor, died Feb. 21, 1631. A child of her's had died Dec. 11, 1622. G. Dupin married a Gênon woman who was buried Sept. 29, 1632. Pierre Guenon de Beaulieu was living in 1663. Many of these Guenons were living when Jean Guenon, the ancestor of the American family, was living in France. Some of them were very likely his immediate relatives. It is possible, too, that he may be closely related to one of the two Guenon lines that received titles of nobility.

Some of the later Guenons in France have been Daniel Guenon who lived in 1720, and Jean André Guenon, a lawyer living in 1761. Robinet's Dictionary of the French Revolution mentions two Guenons in the French Revolution. Jean Louis Charles Victor Guenon, Baron of Deschamps, son of Charles Victor Guenon of Deschamps and Marie Anne Marguerite Mesnil Adelez de Broncas entered the French army under the Revolution, was in the campaigns of the period and of the Empire, and rose rapidly to superior offices. On April 21, 1815, which was in the period known as the Hundred Days (Cent-Jours), he was made Brigade General. He was born Feb. 6, 1763 at Briquebec in Manche. His father was receiver in the bureau of aides at Briquebec.

Another in the French Revolution was Nicolas, Marquis de Guenan, born Aug. 22, 1756 at Buzançais in Indre, and died May 9, 1803 at Paris. He entered the Royal Military School Sept. 17, 1766, was Captain of Grenadiers Feb. 10, 1792, Lieut. Colonel of the 45th Regt., June 29, 1792, Colonel of the 5th Regt., Oct. 26, 1792, and in 1800 became Brigade General in the Army of the Moselle.

Two nineteenth century French authors of the family name are known, but their relationship not yet proven. J. B. L. Guesnon wrote Coup d'oeil sur la situation politique actuelle (Glance at the actual political situation), 1837; and Mon procès en cour d'assizes (My case in the court of assizes), 1837. François Guenon, an agriculturist, who was born Feb. 28, 1796 at Libourne in Gironde, and died there Nov. 15, 1855, was associated with dairy interests at and near La Rochelle and wrote Traité des vaches laitières (Treatise on milch cows), 1838, that appeared in three French editions, one English translation and a French abridgement. He also compiled Almanach des vaches laitières (Almanac of milch cows), 1851.

Various records in England give names with similar spellings to Guenon. William Ginou from Normandy in 1180; Geoffry Gannon who was mentioned in the Rotuli Hundredorum of 1272; and Rufus de Genun who was in England probably before 1200.

The Baronet Gunnings of Eltham, County Kent, England, are descended supposedly from these Norman Frenchman. The earliest known home in England was at Tregonning (meaning the dwelling of Gonning) in Cornwall, England.

The origin of some lines of the Jenning family was French from Genon or Canon. The earliest Norman-English of this name were Petrus de Canon or Kanon from Normandy in 1198; Richard Chanum in England in 1199; and Henry and Walter Canoun in England in 1272. Other early English spellings of the name also suggest relationship to the American descendants of Guenon in Jenun, Chenoun and Chanon. The probability of some lines, at least, of the Gunnings, Cannons and Jennings of England being descended from the early Guenons of France is thus shown.

Marie Guendon, daughter of Nicollas de Pontier was admitted to the Huguenot Church at Southampton, England, April 2, 1570. Jan Guyenon was a witness at a baptism at the Huguenot Church in Threadneedle St., London, May 10, 1601. Pierre and Marie Quinon, brother and sister, were mentioned in the will of their uncle Jaques Huet of the Huguenot Church of Canterbury, England. The will was dated April 14, 1623. Eloy Guignon, a native of Castillon, France, was married to Anne Du Bucquoy, June 10, 1633 at the Huguenot Church in Threadneedle St., London. Minet de Guignon gave 2s. 6d. to the French church at Dover, England, for which a receipt was made April 16, 1686. Peter Guenon was a French Protestant refugee who arrived in England, March 5, 1691. Henry Guinand was a prominent French merchant of London and deacon of one of the Huguenot churches. He collected large subscriptions for the French almshouse in Black Eagle St., London in 1727 and 8.

One Jacques Guesnon came from Normandy to New Orleans in 17— and was the ancestor of the Guesnons now in that city. He was a Roman Catholic and his family has always retained that religion. He had two sons, Jacques and Charles, the first of whom had five sons, Jacques, Philippe, Etienne, Dovilliers, and Omer. The third Jacques had a daughter, and a son who was the father of Miss Philomène Guesnon now living in New Orleans, La.
